“We each have a specific race mapped out for us; the course for each runner is unique. Its uniqueness is determined by God, who charts it factoring in who you and I are right now as to our giftedness, background, responsibilities, age, health – and most of all who we are in Christ. Your race is like no one else’s. It is marked out for you where you are as a student...”

*Kent Hughes
Disciplines of a Godly Man*

“Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.”

*Hebrews 12: 1-2
New King James Version*

Considering the previous quotes, describe the race you feel God has “mapped” out for you in your academic career? What “weights” and “entanglements” could possibly hinder your pursuit of God’s will for your life and studies? Most importantly how does your relationship with Christ motivate you in your determination and perseverance to run the race God has for you?
